Public school board

St. Albert public school trustees, elected last week, held their first meeting Monday evening. Present were trustees Dave Fraser, Don LaBelle, Sylvia Walsh, Ernie Howish and Al Cannon.

The board elected Mr.

BISHOP GERALD BURCH

St. Matthew's Anglican Church and St. Albert United Church will hold a combined service, with Bishop Gerald Burch of the Edmonton Diocese as guest, on Sunday, October 24, at 10 a.m., in the St. Albert United Church. The service will be conducted jointly by the Reverend L. J. Musto and the Reverend J. C. Barford. Fellowship will follow the service and members of both congregations are invited to come and meet Bishop Burch.

Fraser as chairman, a position he has held for the past seven years. Mr. LaBelle was appointed vice-chairman.

In his superintendent's report, Vince Maloney discussed school reporting. Mr. Maloney said two years ago the district did away with formal reporting and instead embarked on a program of parent-teacher interviews; this was first done at Vital Grandin school.

Spook insurance- You may need it!

St. Albert residents can now purchase "Spook Insurance" for halloween on Saturday, October 30th. How about that?

For the small fee of $1 a person can insure his property against soaped, egged or tomatoed windows, upset garbage cans and similar pranks common to the spooks abroad on all Hallowes Eve.

Holders of these policies, now being sold by the St. Albert Movers - need only to call one of two telephone numbers between the hours of one and 5 p.m. and an intelligent, personable and able-bodied young person will appear to clean up the mess. Broken windows or other forms of destruction are not insurable under the policy.

Proceeds of the sale of Spook Insurance will go to such projects as the Coffeehouse, Holiday Community Volunteers and the promotion of social, cultural and economic projects for the youth of St. Albert. All must agree that nothing could be laid on much thicker than that, by way of encouraging sales.

Go ahead - buy a policy - and be in a position to put a Mover to work.

Council organized for three year term

The mayor, five councillors, secretary-treasurer, engineer and recording secretary were present for the organizational meeting of the new council Monday night. Councillor Kambour-off was in hospital.

Councillor John Bakker was appointed mayor for the next two months in accordance with regular practice of rotating the appointments alphabetically. The deputy assumes the chairmanship of committee as well. Council will continue to meet on the first and third Mondays of each month and committee meetings will continue on the second and fourth Mondays.

Coun. Bakker suggested that since the finance and public works committees now meet jointly and include the entire council, there was no longer a need to maintain both this committee and committee of the whole. He also felt three other committees might be added, one for public works, one for finance to handle franchise negotiations etc. and one for technical matters, such as planning and transportation. After some discussion it was decided to delete the finance and public works committee and retain the other standing committees as is.

Coun. Hudson recommended that each council representative have a back up man to fill in when he cannot attend a meeting, such an alternate would then provide continuity on the committee, with two men carrying special interest in the subject involved. His motion to appoint such alternates carried unanimously.

Appointments were made as follows: Kambour-off and Thronsdon to Preventive Social Services Committee; to Sturgeon Health Unit, Kambour-off and Lukay; Edmonton Regional Planning Commission, Mayor - Gibbon, Bakker or Deputy mayor; Edmonton Area Industrial Development Association, Mayor and Hudson; Emergency Measure Organization, Lukay and Thronsdon; St. Albert Curling Club, Hudson and deBruijn. Councillor Hudson will continue to represent council on the Board of Police Commissioners, along with two citizens at large.

Appointments to standing and special committees were approved: Gibbon and de Bruijn to Power Franchise Committee; Gibbon de Bruijn and Kambour-off to the negotiating committee; Bakker, de Bruijn and the mayor to University Planning; Lukay and Thronsdon to the Sturgeon River Basin Development committee; Thronsdon, Lukay and Bakker to the Transportation committee.

Coun. Bakker moved that since the people serving on the recently formed Preventive Social Services committee were just getting their feet wet, they should be reappointed. Motion carried and the following seven members were reappointed: Ileen Alberts, Mr. G. W. Fyfe, June Leggett, Barbara Munro, Len Musto, Jane Nelson and Richard Bailey. Kambour-off as council representative was retained, leaving three positions to be filled to bring the committee to the required 11 members. These positions had been advertised and four applications were in. Council moved to appoint Henrie Stibbe, Ron Gaudance and Dave Thomas.

Pitch and Spice perform

Father Duchesneau's Pitch and Spice Singers, joined by several St. Albert adults, performed with The Privilege and part of the Edmonton Symphony Orchestra in last Sunday's production of Jesus Christ Superstar.

A capacity crowd filled the Knisum Field House and accorded the performers a standing ovation at the end of the excellent production.

Father Duchesneau and his choir will travel to Calgary this Friday where they will join the Calgary Symphony and The Privilege in bringing Superstar to audiences in that city.

After the Edmonton performance, several professional musicians highly commended the Pitch and Spice Singers for their polished performance and enthusiasm which they brought to the production.

Father Duchesneau and his youthful singers again brought recognition to St. Albert and the community extends its best wishes to Father and his group.

Ray Huberdeau, president of St. Albert Movers sells Spook Insurance Policy Number One to St. Albert MLA Ernie Jamison, Tuesday afternoon. Other members of the hustling Movers are Peter Byl at left and John Hauptman. The halloween project could net the young people a fair chunk of needed funds, but they will have to work for it, both as a sales force and clean-up squad.

Letters to the Editor

Public discussion needed

The Editor:

This is an open letter to the residents of St. Albert as a follow up to the recent Gazette editorial and as commentary to the election.

Now that we have a public school board consisting of two businessmen and three members of the teaching profession are we sure that we will be served to the ends for which they were elected? My interpretation of a school board trustee is one who is dedicated to ensuring that an adequate level of education is provided with due regard to the limitations of the financial resources available. I have no doubt whatsoever that each individual candidate ascribed to perform this duty. There is no question of the integrity, sincerity or intentions of the professional members of the board. There is also no challenge to their legal rights to assume such positions in the community.

However, collectively, this is undesirable. Consider the current situation to the immediate north of us, where 20,000 children are being deprived of the education due to them, due to a teacher's strike. And the imminent possibility of another 27,000 being barred in the Battle River area. This situation basically is caused by the "communalism clause" being pressed by the teachers' representatives. The school boards concerned are strongly resisting these pressures to the invasion of the public's domain. The teachers are looking for a foothold in this question and have not been successful to date.

What assurance do we have that our school board will be able to resist these pressures if the board is predominantly oriented to the views of the teaching aspects of providing educational facilities? Which side are they on during salary disputes?

How does a situation like this develop and what can be done about it? In this particular instance it is quite obvious how it occurred. As I did, most of the electors cast a vote for each of the two previous incumbents who have proven records of performance as well as a vote for a representative of the educational profession (this in itself is most desirable). From that point on the similarity ends. I found myself unable to conscientiously cast any more votes. The mathematical analysis of the election results indicate that many voters knew not who to vote for, and made only a random selection thereby creating an unsatisfactory situation.

The cause of the situation? Public apathy! In 1970 I was the only opponent in the election. In 1971 the election offered two positions for which I felt capable of offering my services; that of hospital board or school board trustee. The hospital board position was relative because of my present employment with a major hospital, but was unethical. I would wager that most readers are unaware that an election was to be held for hospital board positions and that an opposition was provided, therefore, the hospital could run the risk of being governed by individuals who have not received a mandate. Similarly had I not allowed a nomination for school board there would have been no election there either. Fortunately there is no question here of the integrity of the elected members. But what COULD have happened had there been no opposition?

If you have read thus far you may be saying "Sour Grapes - you can't accept defeat gracefully" or "It's too late now to do anything, the election is over."

There is a simple solution to such a problem. My opinion might be completely wrong and, if so, I will gladly admit it. I would like to present a solution to such a problem if the Gazette will grant me the privilege of another article in a later edition.

I would first like to hear the opinions of the St. Albert residents either in the Gazette or through the mail. This is intended to provide public discussion of a situation only, not reflections against the individual integrities of duly elected officials.

M. J. Lynch,
31 Geneva Cres.

EDITOR'S NOTE:

The Gazette would be happy to present an article from Mr. Lynch in a later issue. The opinions of our readers on matters of public interest are welcomed, either by letter or article, with the proviso that they bear the name of the writer. Articles or letters should be in as condensed a form as possible.

Sends best wishes

The Editor:

I would like to take this opportunity to thank the citizens of Gibbons who have supported me on Village Council for the past eight years. There have been good and bad times, but I found it very educational. I wish the new council all the very best. I certainly realize you have your work cut out for you.

In three years I will definitely have my name on the candidate list.

Once again, thank you.

Joe Mabbott,
Gibbons, Alberta.

Lions Community Band offers highschool credits

The St. Albert Lions Community Band has received another boost towards its membership drive.

In a letter received from John Hrynew, principal Paul Kane High school, the band has been notified that up to five credits will be offered to high school students participating in the band, the credits to come under the category of special project credits.

Mr. Hrynew indicated that both he and Ross Johnston, principal of St. Albert High school, will offer credits if certain qualifications are met. The primary condition is that a qualified teacher be the instructor.

Bob Heuermann, of St. Albert, has been hired by the Lions to direct the band. Mr. Heuermann is a qualified instructor and also holds an Alberta teaching certificate.

The other major condition is that a student, in order to gain three credits, must put in at least 75 hours of work during the year. Approximately 125 hours of work are required for five credits.

The Lions Band offers all students and adults the opportunity to join. Even non-musicians are welcome, instruction is being provided by music students from the U of A.

The Band rehearses Tuesday evenings from 7-9, at Father Jan school. For information telephone one of the following numbers: 466-4813, 599-3841 or 599-4521.

Citadel-on-Wheels

The Citadel-on-Wheels Touring Company will spend Tuesday, October 26 in St. Albert, performing at Sir George Simpson School, for students of Rundle and Simpson schools.

The group, which last season travelled more than 15 thousand land and air miles to bring theatre for young people into the schools of Alberta and the Northwest Territories, has again chosen specially-written plays by the successful young Canadian dramatist, Isabelle Ford, for its elementary school program.

Members of the Citadel-on-Wheels Company include Irene Watts, director; Eugene Fichawer, stage manager, and actors Karen Austin, Susan Wright, Jackson Davies and David McCullay.

Correction

It was reported in last week's Gazette that parents living in Mission Park last year paid $8.50 per month per child for school bus transportation to SAM. This is incorrect; the amount mentioned covered school bus fees for the four winter months.

G. W. FISHER, R.I.A.

Gerry Fisher, 36, of 5 Grandville Place, received a Registered Industrial Accounting degree at the association's 27th annual convocation, Oct. 9. Mr. Fisher has been employed by Canadian Utilities Ltd., in the accounting department, for 18 years. Mr. Fisher moved to St. Albert four years ago and he and his wife Shirley have two children, Randy and Heather. He is a past governor, Kiwanis Club and is a well-known sportsman, having skipped a mixed curling team to the Peace District provincial championship and his rink placed third in the Dominion Finals in Quebec. He has been a zone winner in mens curling four times.

ST. ALBERT RECREATION HI — LITES

HOCKEY:

Note the serious pronouncement elsewhere in this issue about the lack of coaches in the pee-wee and bantam divisions. Do make sure that YOUR son gets a chance to play hockey — he just might be on one of those coachless teams. Phone the Department of Recreation at 599-6601 and say that you'll coach a team.

SHAPE UP, LADIES:

It's not too late to join the ladies shape up course which is being sponsored by the YWCA and is held each Monday evening in Father Jan School from 8 - 9:30 p.m. The cost is $6 for eight classes, starting on Monday, October 25 when registrations will be taken, and finishing in time to allow a trimmer, fitter "you" to enjoy the Christmas season.

The participants in the class are guided through a series of exercises by Mrs. Pat Gibbons, a former YWCA physical education director who is a fairly new resident in St. Albert. Her qualifications are excellent and she has had wide experience in instructing ladies' classes in fitness and creative dance.

Her exercises are not of the push-up, muscle making variety; Pat achieves results by gentle persuasion and muscles don't even know what's happening to them! Aiding and abetting Pat will be Mrs. Schuchard at the piano. Mrs. Schuchard is an experienced accompanist and there is no doubt that her playing will add to the fun — because exercising can be fun; try it on Monday evening.

SQUARE DANCING:

The class for beginners, aged 8 - 12 years, has now outgrown the rumpus room where it has been held for the last two weeks! From Thursday, October 21, it will be held from 7 - 8:30 p.m. in Robert Hurd school where there'll be lots of room. Information about this class can be obtained by phoning Mrs. Johnson at 599-8912 or Mrs. Terrault at 599-6896.

A second class for the "older" beginners is held every Saturday from 7:30 to 9 p.m. in Sir Alexander Mackenzie school on the first and third Saturdays of each month and in the Clubhouse (beside the swimming pool) on the other Saturdays.

Both classes receive instruction from Sid Deguire, our well-known local caller, assisted by members of the regular dance group, the St. Albert Saints and Sinners, who meet in Sir Alexander Mackenzie school on the first and third Saturdays of each month. Newcomers to St. Albert will receive a warm welcome at the classes and regular dances.

HERCULES BASKETBALL: Registrations for boys and girls basketball (12 years and over) were taken at Vital Grandin school on Tuesday.

Practices will be held at 7 p.m. on Tuesday and Thursday evenings. Once all the registrations are in, a regular practice schedule will be established. Registrations will only be taken this week and next week and fees must be paid.

The annual Hercules membership fee covers all activities sponsored by the association and anyone with a membership can participate in the basketball, soccer and softball program. An individual membership costs $3 and a family membership $3.00.

Father Jan wins junior high cross country event

On Wednesday, Oct. 13, a total of 189 students from the four junior high schools in St. Albert took part in the annual cross country competition.

The cross country run, slightly over one mile in length, started at St. Albert high school, went down the steep Mission Park Hill, around the ball diamond, back up to St. Vital Avenue and finished up at the high school.

Although not particularly long, the course was strenuous and with the weather cold and windy, the participants are to be congratulated for their perseverance in completing the run.

The grade 7 and 8 students from Father Jan won the team championship and the trophy donated by the St. Albert local of the Alberta Teachers' Association with a total of 857 points. They were followed by Sir Alexander Mackenzie with 754 points, Sir George Simpson with 714 points and the grade 9 students from St. Albert

the Gazette REFLECTS

Reflecting on the civic elections brings up a number of questions. While St. Albert voters greatly improved their record at the polls, many people will still wonder, (and the 29 candidates among them), why did 50 per cent not bother to vote?

The issues as presented perhaps did not interest them? Possibly they thought their votes would not make any difference to municipal and school administration.

We would say the issues in this election were such that the manner in which they are handled by our representatives will make a considerable difference in the day-to-day life of St. Albert voters in this decade.

And in very recent years, due we believe to the affect of improved and speedier communication, and mostly due to the impact of television, we have seen how average people do in fact have the power to influence governments. What happened to President Johnson and is now happening to Nixon because of television coverage of the Viet Nam war is the most obvious example.

Therefore we believe that there is more reason to get involved in politics today than there ever has been, from the point of view of getting something accomplished.

It will take more than 50 per cent of the people to prevent atomic blasts on Arctic islands, to control urban growth, to force pollution clean-up and to end poverty in affluent societies.

If 95 per cent of the general public got into the political arena, and considering the fact that the voters are undoubtedly more informed and more sophisticated than ever before, they would be the most powerful voting force in history.

Baptist services to commence in St. Albert

The First Baptist Chapel of St. Albert will begin regular weekly services this Sunday evening at 7 p.m. The chapel services will convene in the Music Room of the LeoNickerson Elementary School at 10 Sycamore Avenue.

The Chapel is sponsored by the Dovercourt Baptist Church of Edmonton. Pastor Herb S. Giffin will also serve as pastor of the First Baptist Chapel in St. Albert. A nucleus of the Dovercourt congregation will support the evening Chapel services.

This is just the beginning of Baptist work in St. Albert, since the support group wishes to establish a Sunday School ministry as well as a dynamic youth fellowship and activity program. Plans are in the making for a creative approach to the social and spiritual needs of our senior citizens.

Their special interest in St. Albert goes back over several years. The Dovercourt congregation sponsored a Vacation Bible School in the Sir Alexander Mackenzie School in 1969, another in the LeoNickerson Elementary School in 1970, and this year's Community VBS in the St. Albert Community Hall.

By Carl Royan, Recreation Director, MD Sturgeon.

The first weekend of the leadership course held at Camp He Ho Ha has now been completed and from all reports it was very successful. The second session will be held the last weekend in October. At this time the various communities throughout the MD will have 21 instructors available in the following fields: play-school, childrens arts and crafts, macrame, physical culture, dressmaking and leathercraft. If anyone is interested in any of these fields they could contact me and these resource people could be made available to them.

At the same time a recreation board members conference was held and the Sturgeon Recreation Board had very good representation with Mrs. Bill Mabbitt and Mr. Angus McDonnell in attendance.

The first meeting of the Namao Mothers. Take a break club in Namao was held on Wednesday, Oct. 13. The club was organized through leadership by Mrs. Monahan and backing from the Namao community league. Membership in the club costs $2 initially and 25¢ is paid for each child to a maximum of 50¢ a week per mother. The ladies have one hour of keep fit and one hour of arts and crafts or a guest speaker. Last Wednesday Mrs. Mary Clark was present to demonstrate cake decorating. For the next few weeks the second hour will be filled with an introduction to macrame.

St. Arnaud - Baert vows at St. Francis

By Jeanne Laplante

A lovely afternoon wedding was celebrated Oct. 9 when Annette Baert, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Baert from Clyde, was united in marriage to Marcel St. Arnaud, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert St. Arnaud from Vimy. The Rev. Father Anthony Sebastian performed the double ring ceremony at St. Francis Catholic Church, Edmonton.

Given in marriage by her uncle, Jerry Fortier, the bride was radiant in a gown of satin brocade, featuring an empire waistline, rolled collar and long puffed sleeves. A waist train enhanced the bride's shoulder length bouffant veil held in place by a Juliet cap. The bridal bouquet was a cascade of pink roses.

Rachelle Baert, sister of the bride, and Gloria Chervenchan were bridal attendants. They chose purple straight cut gowns of velvet with puffed sleeves. They carried colonial bouquets of mums and carnations.

Attending the groom were Leo Seguin and Denis Borduzak. Ushers were Martin Baert and Art St. Arnaud.

The organist during the ceremony was Mrs. Nizli.

To receive the guests at the reception and banquet held at the Sands Motor Hotel, Mrs. Baert chose a two piece suite of beige and black tweed complimented by black accessories and yellow carnations corsage.

Mrs. St. Arnaud wore a red, black and white ensemble of double knit with matching accessories and a corsage of white carnations. Leo St. Arnaud was master of ceremonies and Jerry Fortier proposed the toast to the bride.

A wedding dance and social for some 300 guests at the Vimy Community Hall concluded the evening.

For a honeymoon trip to Jasper, the bride donned a red double knit ensemble with navy accessories and white carnations en corsage. Upon their return the newlyweds will reside in Edmonton.

Out of town guests attending the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Ric Renholm, Mr. Robert Pepin from Vancouver; Mr. and Mrs. Allan Moncrieff from Grande Prairie and Denis Zuklowsky from St. Paul.

Mr. Jack Harold suffered a stroke and was taken to the Royal Alexandra Hospital shortly after 5 a.m. Friday morning. He is not allowed visitors at present.

Nomination papers must be filed on October 27 by candidates seeking office for the seven seats open in divisions 1 - 7, and for trustees seeking office for divisions 1 and 4. The councillors elected will serve three year terms. In the case of school trustees, the terms of Lois Hole and John McDonnell are expiring and both have indicated they will seek re-election. Not until the 1974 school board elections will the three-year term for all trustees come in.

The Sturgeon Local of the ATA held an informal smor-gasbord and cabaret to introduce new teachers in MD Sturgeon schools to their colleagues and invited guests, on Friday evening at LaCava. Those who attended enjoyed a good supper and something different in the way of entertainment by the "Compound Interest" a fine singing group with comedian who was a great success. Guests included trustees John McDonnell, Lois Hole, MLA Ernie Jamison and his wife Shirley, Superintendent Frank Robinson and his wife Owen.

the Alberta Baseball Association, outlined the tremendous growth of baseball in Alberta during the last three years. Three years ago there were only 200 teams where now there are over 600. He felt through efforts of the ABA that Alberta is well on its way in becoming recognized as a leader in amateur baseball. Alberta and Quebec are the only two provinces to have a provincial wide health insurance plan for players. The association was also responsible for obtaining travel aid for teams on the provincial playoff trail. Mr. Bayl ended his talk on the topic with the news media built into the page far too much on pro sports where as they should be reporting on amateur sport far more.

Tiger Goldstick of CFRN TV spoke on the importance of education. He expressed his hopes that young Canadian athletes would be given the chance to further their education through college sport scholarships. He hopes to set up a program where he will interview young athletes from the St. Albert area where he now resides.

Highlighting the afternoon was the awarding of trophies and crests to the division champions.

The Lions Club trophy was presented to coach Rod Wasnea as his Eskimos captured the mite division.

The Angels, under coaches Armand Lacoursiere and Roy Galloway, won the Bermond Insurance trophy for winning the A division of the Beaver league. In B division of the Beaver league, the Mets under coach Jim Leddy were the winners of the Knights of Columbus trophy.

The Doug Millroy trophy went to the Cubs, winners of the bantam league. Mr. Millroy presented the trophy to his assistant coach, Gord Grant.

Lions president Ken Moore brought greetings from their club and thanked George Weller of the K of C organization for their fine co-operation in supporting the minor baseball program.

Roger Gariepy of the Lions Club will be next year's baseball chairman.

Hockey Coaches urgently needed

Kinsmen minor hockey chairman Fred Calkins advised the Gazette Monday that seven more hockey coaches were needed.

Four coaches are required for peewee (10-12 years) play, two in the Grandin area and one each for Sturgeon and Braeside. The bantam (12 - 14 years) need two coaches in Grandin and one in Sturgeon.

The seven teams represent about 100 boys who will not be able to play unless interested persons come forward. Anyone willing to help should call Mr. Calkins at 599-8091.

29 enter first Badminton event

Last Thursday saw the first Novelties Doubles tournament of the season held at Simpson Junior High with 29 members participating. Roberta Parsons won the ladies' high and Gordon Mannars was the mens' winner.

Members are to be reminded that fees are due now and must be paid in order to play in the club's opening tournament on Thursday, Oct. 28 at Simpson Junior High. This will be a tournament where less experienced members are drawn with the better players, for a more even tournament and will begin at 8 p.m. sharp.

Plans are being made for an exhibition of badminton to be held early in November at the University of Alberta with two Chinese players against Canadians. The Chinese are reported to be top players, having defeated the World Champion Danes 15 matches to 0. Look for it, listen for it on the radio, TV and newspapers.

Comets in action Saturday night

Coach Ken Schwartz will get a first hand look at some of the players trying to make the Comets when they tangle with Ray's Esso Saturday night at 8 p.m. in the St. Albert and District Arena. Comets have about 30 players looking for places on the team and all will be out to show what ability they have. This will be the first game for either club and action should be very interesting.

Admission will be charged with adults paying $1., students 50¢ and children 25¢.

Basketball gets expert coaches

Participants in the Hercules basketball program are assured of coaching of a very high calibre.

Coaching duties will be shared by Don Munro and Jim Grievs, both physical education instructors, along with George Paicu, who played basketball for the University of Saskatchewan.

They will possibly need assistance if the program expands and anyone willing to assist, should the need arise, is asked to phone the department of recreation at 599-6601.

SPORTS CLUB

There are many people who want to get involved in certain sports but not on an organized basis. They have an opportunity of doing so on Thursday evenings in Father Jan school from 8 - 10 p.m. when the name of the game is volleyball. On Tuesdays, the gymnas in St. George Simpson school can be used from 7:30 - 10 p.m. for badminton and perhaps volleyball and basketball.

There are no fees involved - the accommodation is free under the terms of the Joint Use Agreement - although balls, birds, etc. may have to be bought from time to time. No age limit either - come singly, in couples, in families or in groups. For information, phone the department of recreation at 599-6601.

R. O. reports on election

St. Albert town council Monday heard a report from G. P. Moore, returning officer. Reporting on the October 13 municipal elections, Mr. Moore said voting was conducted in an orderly manner, with no major difficulties arising.

Mr. Moore recommended that the town set up a special poll for swearing in, next time elections roll around. Mr. Moore also pointed out that the difference in the definition of an elector in the Municipal Election Act and the School Election Act created a problem.

Mr. Moore reported that for the mayoralty vote a total of 16 ballots had been rejected, 30 ballots were rejected for town council, separate school board saw 55 rejected ballots and the number of rejected ballots for the Catholic school board totalled 25.

Poll by poll results are being published by the Gazette and it is noted that the grand totals as shown have been certified correct by the returning officer; poll totals were not adjusted.

Legion plans number of events for coming weeks

By Wally Swenarchuk

The monthly general meeting of the St. Albert Legion was held on Tuesday, October 12, with president Doug Taylor in the chair. Routine business was disposed of quickly in order to provide enough time to hear the report of the building committee and the architects on the feasibility study regarding the building of a new memorial hall.

Poppy Day in St. Albert will be on Saturday, Nov. 6, and again the main drive of canvassing the town will be done by the local Air Cadet Squadron.

Businessmen who wish to purchase floral poppy wreaths for display, or individual citizens who wish to lay wreaths at the cenotaph may order theirs from the Legion, by contacting Doug Taylor at 454-4416, or write to the legion, at Box 179.

Nomination day for the new executive for 1972 will be Monday, Nov. 8, with elections to be held on Dec. 13. Members intending to run for office should state their intentions to Wally Swenarchuk, chairman of the nominations and elections committee, 7 Sonora Drive, phone 599-7353.

Members wishing to sponsor and nominate their candidates for office may do so by submitting their nomination papers. Nominations will also be accepted from the floor.

The date for the children's Christmas party has been set for Sunday, Dec. 12. All legion members will receive notification by mail and the names of eligible children must be known as soon as possible. Paul LeFebvre is in charge.

On completion of the agenda, the meeting was turned over to the chairman of the building committee for the presentation of the report on the feasibility study, which was submitted by Stan Hodgson on behalf of his firm. The report gives promise of practicality, to the site, however, the details are being withheld pending a complete appraisal by Reg Bremner and his committee.

The Ladies Auxiliary again wish to remind all that their rummage sale and tea is on for Saturday, Oct. 23, at the Legion Hall from 10:30 a.m. A wine and cheese tasting party and white elephant auction is being planned for Friday, Nov. 26.

Under the auspices of the joint-city branches committee of the Ladies Auxiliary to the Canadian Legions, the ladies put on a very successful tea in the auditorium of the newly completed Veterans apartment building on 5210 - 106 Street in which the St. Albert branch participated. President June Kendall led a party of her branch with their husbands to the tea, and the group toured the home.

A new color television has been installed by the Norwood Branch Ladies Auxiliary and the visitors

Fourth St. Albert scouts paper drive

The Fourth St. Albert scouts and scouts will be sponsoring a mass paper drive in St. Albert on Saturday, Nov. 6. On that day, scouts and scouts will be canvassing the entire town to collect any paper, magazines or cardboard to raise funds for their various scout activities this year.

This drive will serve a two-fold purpose. First, it raises money for scouting activities. Second, it removes for re-cycling several tons of paper from the town trash collections. This is important as trash disposal is an ever-increasing problem and a potential threat to our environment.

The scouts urge every St. Albert resident to save their waste paper from now through November 6th. A scout will be at your house on that date to collect the paper you've saved.

This is an opportunity for every citizen of St. Albert to help the scouts and their environment at the same time. Save your paper for the scouts on November 6th.

Card of Thanks

May I take this opportunity to express my sincere thanks to all the people who worked so hard on my behalf during the recent election campaign.

Many people have mentioned to me their concerns about education. Now as your elected representative I invite and welcome any questions, comments, or opinions on our educational system in St. Albert. My phone number is 599-8009. I would be interested in hearing from you.

Rock Holman — Lepidopterist

Carefully mounted in numerous glass topped drawers and displayed in frames on the walls of the Holman basement is a wonderful world of color, a world of fragility and grace — these are Rock Holman's 2,700 butterflies.

Rock is a lepidopterist, a collector of moths and butterflies; Rock's specialty is butterflies.

"I got into this in a round about sort of way," he says, recalling his childhood in Winnipeg. "I used to build model airplanes and an elderly neighbour was a butterfly collector. He got his specimens sent to him from all over the world, in little balsam wood boxes. And it was these boxes we were interested in; balsam wood is ideal for building airplanes."

Rock's neighbour started giving young Rock a few butterflies along with the empty containers and it was not long before Rock, too, became a collector.

Rock is probably the only serious collector in this area. He used to spend an average of 20 hours a week classifying and mounting the specimens he collects. His Lions Club activities, Mr. Holman is Deputy District Governor, are now taking up the major portion of his spare time and Rock is not now as involved in his butterflies as he would like to be.

Rock says he is a perfectionist — if a butterfly is not perfect, he does not want it. He is able to mount three — four butterflies per hour. It is a painstaking job, and Rock's butterflies are mounted perfectly.

Pressure relief

"To me, this is the best pressure relief I know of," he says. "As long as I can get outdoors with my net and get close to nature, catching butterflies, I'll and I sit on top of the hood with my butterfly net."

Asphyxiation

Rock stalks his butterflies. "You'll never catch them if you chase them," he says. A butterfly at rest will fold his wings. Rock picks up his quarry gently and if a quick examination reveals a specimen in good condition, one which Rock is interested in adding to his collection, he quickly renders it lifeless by squeezing its thorax. If he does not want it, it flies away, unharmed.

Rock prefers not to use ether or cyanide — with these there is always the risk of decoloration, he says.

Because of their fragility, butterflies have to be handled with extreme care. Quite often, Rock does not get around to mounting his specimens until considerable time after they were caught. When they are first captured, butterflies are easily handled, he points out. But after they have been dead for some time, they, like all creatures, become stiff. When this happens, Rock puts his butterflies in a container with damp sand; this will make them pliable and enables Rock to manipulate them again.

The butterfly's body shell consists of something called chitin; this does not decompose. Rock recalls reading somewhere of a 100-year old specimen which was bisected. "The insides were still in perfect condition, butterflies need no pre-

Black Swallowtail

Is there any particular butterfly Rock would just love to get his net over? We ask, "Yes," he answers readily, "a Black Swallowtail." Rock says as far as he knows, three Black Swallowtails have been caught in the Nordegg area, which, he says, is "one of the finest regions on this continent, along with the Banff area, for butterflies."

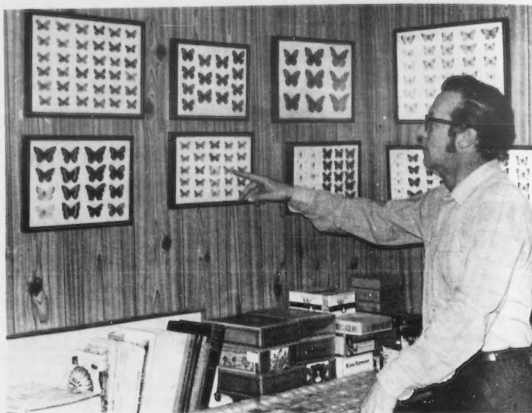

Rock has been looking for the elusive Black Swallowtail there for five years now. "Nothing," he says, "maybe they've been wiped out. Who knows?"

Rock says collectors will pay up to $400 for one Black Swallowtail in perfect condition. "A damaged one will bring $125," he says. Would Rock pay that kind of money? "Nope, not would I sell for that amount if ever I caught

One of the world's foremost authorities on butterflies has named this particular sub-species of butterfly after Rock Holman: Neominois Ridingsi Holman.

"The weird thing about these Holmans," Rock says "is you go to that field near Moose Jaw on June 17th, and there isn't a single one. Then, on the 18th, they're all over." One year when Rock was there, the Holmans did not show up till the 19th, and, "so help me, that was a leap year," Rock says.

Rock's explanation of his most fascinating hobby is spiced with interesting anecdotes. Take the case of the Monarch and Viceroy butterflies. "The Viceroy, in its entire course of life from caterpillar to chrysalis, bears no resemblance at all to the Monarch; until it emerges as a butterfly, then they are so alike it is servatives." Rock's oldest specimen was caught 63 years ago, it looks no different than his most recent additions.

On display in the Holman basement, at 49 Spruce Crescent, is Rock Holman's extensive butterfly collection. Mr. Holman points to the Neominois Ridingsi Holman, a sub-species named after him.

Most of the butterflies in the Holman collection were caught by Rock, others he had given to him, some he traded with fellow collectors and few are bought. His Baltimore Checkerspot were a gift from his brother, a doctor in Baltimore.

"Every year he would write and ask 'what do you want for Christmas,' and every year I would answer back: just send me some Baltimore Checkerspots. He never did, always sent me a tie." Then, one year, a little box arrived, and in it . . . Baltimore Checkerspots!

"It's a funny thing about these," Rock explains, "they never go more than a few hundred yards from their birthplace. Therefore, if you find one, look around a bit more, his brothers and sisters are usually in the immediate vicinity."

The Checkerspot is a handsome butterfly, black upperparts with a marginal row of red spots and several rows of pale yellow spots, usually three rows on the fore-wings and two rows on the hindwings. Several additional large red spots may also be scattered on both wings; no two are ever alike.

one. What if he caught two or three, then would he sell? "No, maybe if I caught eleven, and one of them was almost identical to one of the others, then, maybe."

The Nordegg area is a favorite with Rock Holman; he tries to get up there several times each year. "There is one species up there which is found in only one other place in the world — the Arctic." This butterfly feeds on a particular grass and the theory is that with the ice-age some of this grass was pushed down to the Nordegg area. It grows only in those two places and that is where this butterfly is found.

One achievement Rock is quietly proud of is the species of butterfly he caught in the Moose Jaw area.

Holmani species

"This particular type of butterfly had no business being there; its kind is normally found at altitudes of 5,000 — 6,000 feet, in the Colorado mountains," he notes. "They were completely different from anything else found in that area. But, that year, on June 18, the place was swarming with them," Rock says. He caught several hundreds of them and sent them to collectors all over the world.

hard to tell them apart."

The mimicking Viceroy knows what it is doing — birds have learned to leave the Monarch, which feeds on milkweed, strictly alone, because of its revolting taste. The Viceroy, because of its identical appearance, now lives a life relatively undisturbed by hungry birds.

Variations

Latitude has a lot to do with the appearance of butterflies. Specimens found in warmer parts of the world show startling variations in size and color to their more northern relatives. Butterflies found in mountain regions are usually small in size — this enables them to cope with the strong winds that are prevalent there.

Arctic butterflies fly low, and experience slow growth because of the shortness of the season. Most form take two years for the life cycle to complete itself. Arctic butterflies must also hibernate from the environment.

Many of the most magnificent butterflies of the world are inhabitants of the tropical rainforests. South American species excel in brilliance and variegation. Looking at Rock's collection, one can't help but marvel at nature's wise ways —

Some butterflies have green and white marbling on the underside of their wings, which conceals them wonderfully well among the foliage. Some are translucent, like a fresh, spring leaf; still others closely resemble dead leaves.

Some specimens have brilliant colored hind wings and inconspicuous front wings. There is a reason for this, Rock explains. "When pursued, the sudden flash of color may induce a moment of indecision to the pursuer, which may just be all the butterfly needs to get to safety." Examples of this are the Peacock, Mourning Cloak, Angle Wing and Turquoise Shell butterflies.

Then there is the Painted Lady, which looks as if it were hand-cut from the finest quality velvet and splashed with paintbox colors. Rock's collection includes fragile, lacy looking butterflies, others resemble the petals of some exotic flower and the incandescents shimmer with metallic blues, rich purples, greens and violet pinks. Some are so thinly covered with scales as to be almost translucent.

Paul Kane honors Class of '71

Seventy-one young men and women were honored Sunday afternoon when Paul Kane High School said farewell to its graduating class of '71. The exercises were held in the George Simpson assembly area.

Many of the graduates are now taking post-secondary education at universities and technical schools, others have entered the business world and some have married. Sunday afternoon they all shared their moment of glory with those who stood behind them, their parents and teachers.

Charles Schroder, chairman, board of trustees, St. Albert protestant school district, brought greetings from the district. "Has our technical expertise helped us to understand people better?", he asked, cautioning the graduates that far too often in our society, ideals such as honesty, integrity, love and dignity are being pushed aside by the almighty dollar. "Fight for the world we live in, it is the only world we have," he said.

Mayor Ray Gibbon brought greetings from the town. "With the change in the age of majority, you graduated into instant adulthood," he told the class of '71. "Mr. Schroder just bade you 'goodbye'; I say 'welcome'—welcome to our world and I hope you will stay in the community and help make it a better place in which to live."

Salutatorian was Catherine Rayment, the class history was given by Deborah Page and the valedictory was delivered by Alice Berard.

Guests were introduced by J. Bauman, vice-principal, Paul Kane High. Seated at the head table were John Hryniew, principal, Paul Kane High; the Reverend L. Musio; Mrs. M. Martin, assistant superintendent of schools; Mr. L. McKinstry, head of business education, Paul Kane High; Dr. T. C. Byrne, president, Athabasca University; Charles Schroder, Mayor R. M. Gibbon; Don Hurl; Dr. Walter Millin; Dr. Wm. D. Cuts; Mr. T. Nemirsky, vice-principal, Paul Kane High and Bill Jones.

Planiat was Janice Unterschultz, a vocal soloist presented by Dianne Conway, accompanied by Billy Nickerson.

The Key of Knowledge was presented by Brett McCann, top grade 12 student, to Sheryl Kyle, top grade 11 student. The Key symbolizes the handing over of leadership in the quest for knowledge and is a honored tradition at Paul Kane High.

Honor plaques were presented to the school's top graduating students: Max Dupilka, Alice Berard, Llan Holman, Brenda Gibbon and Brett McCann. Brettton obtained an average of 97.25 per cent, the highest ever achieved at Paul Kane.

The St. Albert Lions Club scholarships were awarded to Brettton McCann and Brenda Gibbon. Making the presentation was Bill Jones.

The St. Albert Associate Medical Clinic Centennial scholarship was presented to Barbara Fleming by Dr.

W. Mirrin. The Dr. W. D. Cuts grade 12 Highest Honor Plaque was awarded to Brettton McCann. Dr. Cuts made the presentation.

Brettton McCann, "the little guy who does not say much," walked away with all but one of the grade 12 departmental highest subject awards. He missed out on Biology 30; that award went to Alice Berard who had a 84 per cent standing. Mr. McCann tied with Brenda Gibbon and Anne Lovett for the French 30 award, all three scored 84 per cent.

After that, Brettton was home free! His outstanding achievements include: Chemistry 30, 95 per cent; English 30, 90 per cent; Mathe-

Large wings

Some of these creatures have been known to have flown well over a thousand miles; others flutter around and die within a relatively small area, perhaps the same garden in which they first emerged from the pupa, Rock points out.

The butterfly has disproportionately large wings—the body weight of a medium sized butterfly may be roughly that of a large bee, yet the wing expanse is 20 times that of a bee of equal weight.

If these wings should be broken off, the creature will perish. Even if the wings are just torn, many of the scales are rubbed off and the insect's life will be radically shortened, for lost scales are not replaced by new growth. Also, when this happens, the butterfly's protective color has become imperfect and it can be spotted more easily by enemies.

Its ability to fly will be hampered by displacement of weight, when some of the scales are rubbed off. The wings are perfectly balanced; when this balance is upset, there will be an uneven flow of air over the wings. With awkward flight, the butterfly can no longer elude the swift birds that prey upon it.

"Butterflies are all around us, all you have to do is look for them," says Rock Holman. Could he ever imagine a world without butterflies?

"Good Lord, no!"

Mathematics 30, 98 per cent; Mathematics 31, 96 per cent; Physics 30, 96 per cent and Social Studies 30, 96 per cent.

Brettton has won a three year scholarship and is studying engineering at the University of Alberta.

In making the presentations, Mr. T. Nemirsky said a "friendly, competitive spirit" prevailed among the students. "These young people are like the long distance runner, who, when challenged, runs his greatest race," Mr. Nemirsky commented, adding that the school's teaching staff stood on the side lines, watching and encouraging.

With excellent results like

these, the teachers at Paul Kane are to be congratulated. It takes a dedicated teacher to guide and coax a student to give his most.

Mr. L. McKinstry presented the Business Education Proficiency Award to Donna Harvie. Donna Williams won the Business Education-Victor Comptometer Award. In making the presentation, Don Hurl noted that Miss Williams had achieved a top speed of 175 strokes per minute on the 10-key calculator in an eight minute nationwide test.

The keynote address was given by Dr. Tim Byrne. "Graduation is a family experience," he noted. "It is an occasion when parents are out getting a different view of their sons and daughters." Dr. Byrne said the awards which had just been presented were "a good indication of the excellent program available at Paul Kane."

Dr. Byrne said the big question facing the graduates is "What kind of a person am I to become."

"This search to find one's self provides the real challenge in reaching maturity," he said. "The idea that somewhere there is a total and final answer is a myth. There is no perfect society, there are no completely perfect human beings. Therefore, you will find many inconsistencies, many contradictions."

"Do you condemn society, or do you say 'we will work on it, as mature people.' You should constantly re-examine your own life style and value system," Dr. Byrne concluded.

Joanne Bellward made a presentation to Dr. Byrne on behalf of the graduating class. A reception followed the commencement exercises.

Another period of municipal government has passed and a new three year period has begun. At this time, I would like to express my gratitude for the tolerance and understanding we have received over the past three years. Appreciate the opportunity, given by the Gazette, to express my personal thanks to the retired members of town council, namely, Gilbert Boddey, Vincent Curtis, Roger Champagne and Frank Sale. Without their efficient services the programs completed over the last three years would not have been possible.

From the new council members I expect the same co-operation. If this is realized, the residents of Morinville can be assured of more progress in both services and enterprising government. Our town is on the move; no town of similar size in the province of Alberta, has a greater potential for controlled expansion, than has the Town of Morinville. All that is required is continued co-operation by the residents, and sound judgment by town council, to produce a physical and financial environment of which the citizens of Morinville can be justly proud.

We will not be able to please everyone all of the time but by careful budgeting and increased assessment many of the local requests will be complied with in the next two years, if not sooner.

During the next three years, I am striving to institute a program of dust control. Under the former Alberta Government, we were promised a new street improvement grant, commencing in 1972. It is hoped that the present government will, in their wisdom, continue this important program.

Over the years the Morinville town council was able, with the co-operation of Calgary Power Ltd., to update the street lighting system. It is my sincere hope to have installed in the near future, a more intensified street lighting system.

During the last two years as you may have noticed, town council has been fit to acquire some of the more important units to maintain certain departments of local government. It is my firm belief that it is imperative, if we are to move away from rental units, which are expensive, not only from the basic rental rate, but from the time spent in acquiring them, and returning them to the rental agent. Finally, by no means least, I pledge myself to give to the residents of Morinville, the same sound, economic and expansive view of government, that has been in force over the last three years.

We have a great townsie, a wonderful people. All I ask is that these same people give me and the council members, the same co-operative consideration that they have in the past.

Around Town

On Sunday, Oct. 17, Sing-out St. Albert presented at the St. Albert United Church a service which was described by the Rev. Musto as "a worship experience." A large congregation was in attendance to listen to the songs and prayers of this group of enthusiastic young people.

Prayers were presented by Jackie Kufeldt, Janice and Christie Larkins. Additional messages were given by Gisela Baumann, Linda Garvin, Bobbie Kufeldt and Nancy Glaister.

Sing-out St. Albert is directed by John Lindley.

who is doing an outstanding job with the group.

Among those who found themselves not on the voters list when they went to the polls election day, was Nell Ross. Says an awed passer-by: "He cursed all the way to the Town Hall, where he was sworn in." Seems Mr. Ross said all the things one would be expected to say on such an occasion... and even invented some brand new additions to his vocabulary.

practice has been an overwhelming success, and a survey showed that the majority of parents contacted were very much in favor of the interview type reporting. Mr. Maloney recommended to trustees that this program be continued and asked that the Catholic schools be closed the afternoons of Nov. 16 and 17, to facilitate parent-teacher interviews. Additional interviews will also be arranged for the evening of Nov. 18.

Mr. Maloney advised trustees that parent attendance at the interviews was much higher than had been expected, and trustees voted in favor of carrying on with the program. Trustee Ernie Howrhis said the interviews were a "step in the right direction to get the school situation more humanized."

Mr. Maloney also reported on the problem of school thefts. "This situation is getting pretty serious," he said, adding that several schools had been broken into recently. "A good deal of damage is being done," the superintendent noted.

Trustees agreed to send letters of commendation to the parents involved in Father Jan's volunteer program. Mr. Maloney said nine parents are presently helping out in the library at that school and the idea is working out extremely well. Mr. Maloney said he would like to see this kind of parent participation extended to include the other schools in the district. "Some of these volunteers are highly qualified and the district is most fortunate to have their assistance," he commented.

Trustees carried Don LaBelle's motion to increase their out-of-town expense allowance by $25, bringing the allowance to $75 -- per day for conventions held outside a 50 mile radius. Mr. LaBelle pointed out that trustees' allowances had not been increased, while hotel accommodation and costs of meals were going up all the time. Mr. Howrhis opposed the motion. St. Albert Protestant separate trustees are presently receiving an expense allowance of $100 per day, for out of town conventions.

Appointments were made to standing committees. Dave Fraser will chair the salary negotiating committee, the other member of which is Don LaBelle. Al Cannon was asked to attend meetings of this committee as an observer.

Don LaBelle will again act as chairman of the finance committee; sitting with him will be Ernie Howrhis. Al Cannon and Don LaBelle agreed to be on the religious education committee and Dave Fraser and Vince Maloney will carry on their duties on the site committee. Trustee Sylvia Walsh declined membership on any standing committee.

Students from St. Albert School of Dancing were examined last Tuesday in classical ballet and modern dance by Miss Ivy Baker of the Imperial Society of Teachers of Dancing, London, England.

The results were as follows:

Honors: Lois Madryk; Jocelyn Kowalski; Leah Moore; Liane Lynch; Tara McKendry; Doris Wutzke; Julie Rumpel; Colleen Hughes; Tommy Munroe; Sabrina Bosse; Sandra Stitt.

Highly Commended: Patti Hughes; Vanessa Hoyt; Wendy Jentink; Joanne Smith; Angela Kochan; Lynn Fontaine; Patti Lukay; Cynthia Roman; Shelley Cooper; Frances Vettergreen; Suzanne Maltry; Mrs. Aileen Babichuk; Mrs. Fay Rumpel.

Miss Baker had a very busy schedule; as well as conducting exams in St. Albert, she gave a two day workshop in modern dance and tap to 40 teachers from all over Alberta.

From here she has gone to Calgary and Toronto.

Nurses discuss trends and concerns

The first meeting of the 1971-72 season of the St. Albert Chapter of the Alberta Association of Registered Nurses was held Wednesday, Oct. 6 in the St. Albert Public Library.

Twenty nurses attended, and a short business meeting was held. Miss Beswetherick, associate professor of nursing administration at the University of Alberta, was the guest speaker for the evening.

Miss Beswetherick's remarks centered around the concerns expressed by those present. She reviewed the basic functions that nurses must fulfill, and stressed a need to keep informed in order to contribute to better patient care. She mentioned that everyone can become more knowledgeable about nursing trends, simply by reading current nursing journals and compilations.

With the present high cost of hospital care resulting in fewer staff members, nurses feel hampered in performing the quality of nursing that they desire; therefore better education can increase the efficiency in coordinating patient care.

Miss Beswetherick dealt briefly with the different programs that are offered to student nurses, and she stressed the need for counselling in order to determine the most suitable training program for each individual. New trends in patient care still in the experimental stages were discussed.

The key factors emphasized in meeting the changing conditions within the nursing profession, were the utilization of knowledge and professional judgement instead of emotionalism when problems arise.

Drama group to become active again

The St. Albert-on-Sturgeon Players, the local drama group, has been in hibernation for a few years but is about to waken up and become re-activated.

A few of the original members are still around and they, and anyone else interested, are invited to drop in at a get-together which will be held in the library meeting room on Sunday, October 31 at 2 p.m.

Experience in the field of drama is not necessary; interest and enthusiasm are.

There are so many facets to putting on a play or show of any kind - designing, lighting, sound, costumes, carpentry, props, etc., as well as acting. So whatever your "angle," if you would like to become involved with theatre, come and meet your fellow "anglers" on Sunday, the 31st.

It will NOT be a meeting complete with chairman; an executive will not be chosen that afternoon. It will simply be getting-to-know-you affair for people with a common interest. Coffee will be served and a special invitation is issued to newcomers to St. Albert.
